

BLL and MCV ( $\rho=-0.15$ ,  $p\text{-value}=0.03$ ). Higher blood lead concentration was significantly associated with father's occupation.

Conclusion: Number of children exposed to lead in our city was relatively high. This bio-monitoring study of blood lead levels in children provides important reference data stratified by demographic and lifestyle factors.